

Clarence Mitchell Library Presents

Friday Forums

student application

Apply today for an opportunity to perform or present your scholarly or creative work to the public.

Friday Forums will promote community participation and attendance. 2015-2016 Events will be held on selected Fridays at noon. Individuals or groups of HCC students, classes, faculty or staff may present work for the campus community to enjoy. Friday Forums opportunities will be offered up to once each month during Fall and Spring semesters. Presentations may include such work as dramatic or spoken works, poster sessions or oral presentation of academic work, musical performances, or may feature visual arts. Other ideas are welcomed! Visual art exhibits may remain in the library exhibit space for up to two weeks following the Friday Forum. Up to four proposals for Friday Forums events will be selected for each semester. If you are among the selected applicants, the library will work with you in planning and promoting your Friday Forums event.

Application review is ongoing. Submit your ideas anytime!
